KEYNOTE

Jeff Douglas is a Canadian personality whose work has been watched and enjoyed by audiences in over 160 countries. His mixture of enthusiasm, warmth and humor has endeared him to viewers both at home and abroad.

A background in drama, understanding of story and considerable experience in improvisational theatre combine to make Jeff a dynamic host and has allowed him to tackle situations ranging from mushing dogs in the Yukon, leaping out of planes with

Search and Rescue personnel, through the sensitivity of uniting people with birth parents and siblings, to the unique pressures of international live-via-satellite television.

Popular with viewers and peers alike, Jeff Douglas has garnered two Gemini nominations (2008), and a Viewers Choice Gemini Nomination (2006) for his work with History Television and National Geographic in Ancestors In The Attic, Working Over Time, Making History and Things That Move.

Jeff was the recipient of the prestigious Kari Award (2001) for his performance as Joe Canadian in the well known Molson commercial, The Rant. Jeff is the new co-host of CBC Radio's As It Happens.
