

Teaching is a demanding career.

The challenges, responsibilities, expectations—and rewards—are great.

You can invest in your own professional development and personal success with Special Area Groups of Educators (SAGE) memberships. SAGEs help you:

- keep on top of changes
- share insights with peers
- give your teaching the informed edge
- exercise your autonomy in PD

The 28 Special Area Groups of Educators affiliated with The Manitoba Teachers' Society are your link to a network of professional educators striving for excellence. They offer you professional development, camaraderie and a forum to share your ideas and insights.

There's no better way to put your own interests and abilities to work for you.

The PD edge

Special Area Groups of Educators conferences and workshops present the best ideas from the brightest minds in teaching. But SAGEs do much more than sponsor a one-day PD conference.

They reinforce your personal professional development activities by helping you develop skills in a friendly, non-competitive environment and keeping you on the leading edge of thinking in your areas of interest.

SAGE publications inform, stimulate and expand your world of professional reading. What's more, they are your forum, your voice to colleagues across the province who share your interests.

Leadership and influence

Special Area Groups of Educators provide more than professional development. SAGE members play a leading role in addressing issues and challenges that face Manitoba public schools today.

As a SAGE member, you can:

- influence the development of resolutions for presentation to The Manitoba Teachers' Society Annual General Meeting of Provincial Council
- work with like-minded colleagues to help develop Society policy in a number of areas
- lay the groundwork for projects that benefit you, your profession, and your students, and
- network with colleagues to enrich your professional development

Professional development and inspiration

Many SAGEs recognize their members' contributions and commitment through awards and other programs. Experience the satisfaction of working together with conscientious and dedicated peers. Let your SAGE participation inspire your personal creativity.

A perfect match

Special Area Groups of Educators thrive on fresh ideas and input. You can make a positive contribution to your peers—and your own professional success.
