

APPLY TO BE A

COLLABORATIVE LEARNING FACILITATOR

Are you a teacher interested in helping other teachers develop their teaching practice? Thinking about understanding the role of an instructional coach? Or are you an instructional coach/teacher and want to add more knowledge and skills to your repertoire?

Apply to be a Collaborative Learning Facilitator!

Through this team you will learn and practice skills of a coach.

As a team member you will receive professional development in the areas of:

- learning cycles,
- different ways of collecting and analyzing student data,
- facilitate coaching conversations,
- hone in your collaboration skills
- current teaching approaches and models to support teacher professional growth
- build skills in leadership

with the ultimate goal of student success.

The time commitment required are:

- Three (mandatory) training sessions in:
 - o August 26, 2025
 - o November 8, 2025
 - o May 9, 2026
- Three deployments with your assigned team between November to May
- All release and travel costs covered by MTS

To apply:

Send in your resume, a letter of intent, and two letters of recommendations (one coming from a school leader)

Send the documents to Eric Sagenes at esagenes@mbteach.org.

DEADLINE: MAY 2ND, 2025

